Iris Latin America is a non-profit organization that provides educational opportunities and support to underserved communities in Latin America. Founded in 2010 by Iris de la Cruz, the organization has grown from a small group of volunteers to a global network of over 1,000 members.

Iris's story is one of impossible dreams and radical love. She was born into a poor family in the Dominican Republic and faced many challenges growing up. But she never gave up on her dreams of making a difference in the world.

In 2010, Iris traveled to Ecuador with a group of volunteers. She was shocked by the poverty and lack of opportunity that she saw there. She knew that she had to do something to help.

Iris returned to the Dominican Republic and founded Iris Latin America. The organization's mission is to provide educational opportunities and support to underserved communities in Latin America.

Since its founding, Iris Latin America has made a significant impact on the lives of thousands of people. The organization has built schools, provided scholarships, and trained teachers. It has also implemented programs to promote health and nutrition.
